What a week of celebrations it has been in Lower School this week!

Starting off our reading celebrations, Y11 Health and Social students came to visit us. Using traditional tales, they have begun to make story sacks for us. We listened carefully to them telling us the stories and then enjoyed using the puppets, props and musical instruments they had made to help us re-tell the story. We had the most amazing time....diolch yn fawr.

Our celebrations continued on Thursday, as we celebrated National Poetry Day. Reception read the poem "Through my magic telescope".

This inspired them to make their own magic telescopes and go searching to see what they could spy. They used these ideas to write their own group poems and shared them with each other. Year 1 performed some poetic recitals. They learnt a superhero number poem, then performed it to each other and the rest of Lower School in assembly-true thespians in the making! Year 2 used their poetic license to write some very personalised poems for "Someone Special"....we hope you like them.

Friday saw a double celebration...

In the morning, we were invited to the big school to join in the European Languages Day celebrations. We practised using words in the new languages we have learnt so far and then enjoyed tasting some delicious foods from all over Europe-what a treat. Danke and merci to the MFL department.

In the afternoon, we had the absolute pleasure of welcoming our "Someone Special" into school. We had a fabulous time reading and sharing books with you all, outside, inside our classrooms and in our new library. It was so heart warming to see so many people sharing the love of reading with each other. We hope you enjoyed your very special handmade gifts.
