22.5.26

We have taken our "responsibility" value extremely seriously this week. Our contemplations have encouraged us to not only consider our choices from a personal perspective where our actions maybe felt by those closer to us such as friends and families but also on a wider, global context as informed citizens of the world.

As such, the whole of Lower School enjoyed participating in the worldwide event, "Bee Day-Bee together for People and the Planet". As well as creating a real "buzz" around the school, participation in such an event aims to raise awareness on the essential role bees and other pollinators play in keeping people and the planet healthy and the many challenges they face in today's world. Today bees, pollinators, and many other insects are declining in abundance. This day provides an opportunity for all of us - as concerned citizens - to promote actions that will protect and enhance pollinators and their habitats, improve their abundance and diversity, and support the sustainable development of beekeeping.

A huge "diolch" to all of our families who were able to make this event. You looked "fabeelous" sporting your yellow and black outfits. The posters created will continue to help remind people of why we need to save our bees and hopefully with so many working together "green fingers" your sunflowers will bloom and bees will enjoy pollinating them and drinking the nectar to make honey.

Such a memorable way to end another half term full of discovery and exploration on our learning journey.

Have a relaxing half term and we look forward to welcoming you back to school on Monday 1st June.
