Cowbridge Lower School Newsletter

What an inspirational week of embracing new challenges and facing our value of "resilience" with an open mind and confidence.

Our Y3 pupils have faced one of their biggest challenges to date. After attending a whole School Council meeting they decided whether or not they would like to play such an influential role in our school. Truly impressive persuasive speeches were delivered by prospective candidates in an attempt to gain a seat. All participants can feel immensely proud of themselves for putting themselves forward and wanting to represent their peers in such an important capacity. Huge congratulations to Tilly and Buddy for being elected and wanting to be a voice for Lower School. We have every confidence you will do a fantastic job and be reliable, dependable and trustworthy representatives.

Our Welsh language has also been worthy of celebration this week as we participated in "Shwmae Day" on Thursday 15th. Mrs Griffiths, from our Welsh Department, came to Lower School to share some Welsh activities with us as we encouraged each other to be brave and start conversations in Welsh whatever our abilities….bendigedig Lower School for embracing the Welsh language with such confidence.

Our language skills have also taken us further afield as we welcomed Frau/Madame Powlson to Reception and Y3 to start our German and French language journeys. We are looking forward to an exciting year ahead filled with linguistical opportunities.

Y1, Y2 and Y3 had the literary pleasure of welcoming author Ian Brown to school. They were treated to the unique experience of a storytelling session by an author reading their own book-a truly memorable and unforgettable experience.

In our classrooms, the resilience has continued….

Nursery have been thinking about helping, even when we might not feel like it, just like in the story, The Little Red Hen.
Reception had another party…. a world fruit party this time! We were really brave a tasted fruits from different countries, not forgetting our very own Welsh cakes!!
Year 1 and Year 2 have been smoothie chefs choosing superfoods to create and make healthy smoothies. The new blenders are amazing, diolch yn fawr! Year 3 have extended their world wide knowledge by associating flags with the relevant countries.
